

This is a detailed topographic map of the Sterling, Colorado area. The map features a grid with coordinates ranging from 100° 00' W to 100° 03' W and 41° 00' N to 41° 03' N. Key locations and landmarks include:

- Geographic Features: The map shows the North Platte River, South Platte River, and various creeks and draws. The terrain is characterized by rolling hills and valleys, with elevation contours indicating a range from approximately 4,000 to 6,000 feet.
- Infrastructure: Major roads, including Highway 100 and Highway 160, are shown. The city of Sterling is prominently featured in the lower right quadrant, with its surrounding urban area and industrial zones.
- Administrative Boundaries: The map delineates the boundaries of Weld County, Logan County, and Morgan County. It also shows the locations of various state and federal lands, including the South Platte State Wildlife Area and the North Platte State Wildlife Area.
- Map Details: The map includes a scale bar at the bottom left, indicating distances in feet. A north arrow is located in the upper right corner. The map is labeled with numerous place names, including Sidney, Westphalia, and Sterling.

A detailed, textured map of a mountainous region, likely the Himalayas, showing intricate topographical features and a small inset map in the upper right corner.
